THOMPSON O'NEIL LAW IN AFFILIATION WITH FIERBERG NATIONAL LAW GROUP

Traverse City, MI—The Thompson O'Neil Law Firm has increased its capacity and expertise through an affiliation with the Fierberg National Law Group.

From its offices in DC, Denver, and Traverse City, the Fierberg National Law Group serves as lead counsel in cases across the country specializing in complex litigation, wrongful death, catastrophic injury, sexual assault, Title IX, and school violence. The Fierberg National Law Group has recently relocated its Michigan office to Traverse City and expanded with additional highly-qualified attorneys and paralegals.

The Fierberg National Law Group's litigation skills, including success in its federal cases involving the sexual abuse of students, have been retained for high profile cases such as representing victims in the school shooting at Virginia Tech and defending Rolling Stone Magazine on defamation claims. The Fierberg team and their cases are often profiled on CNN, MSNBC, Good Morning America, NPR, The New York Times, and other national media.
